2027 Rankings Schedule

Publication month and submission deadline for every ranking Doyle's Guide publishes — thousands of rankings across 175 jurisdictions in eleven markets. Submissions close usually two months before each ranking publishes. A few rankings publish in January 2028.

Revised October 2026

About our ranking schedule

Doyle's Guide publishes thousands of rankings a year across 175 jurisdictions in eleven markets: Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Hong Kong, the UK, Canada, the US, Asia, the Middle East, Europe and Latin America. This schedule sets out, for every ranking in the 2027 programme, the month it will publish on doylesguide.com and the month by which any submission should reach our editorial team.

We publish it so that firms, practitioners and chambers can plan: know when research in your area is under way, when material needs to be with us, and when results will appear. The schedule is a working document — rankings added to the programme during the year are scheduled as they are confirmed, and the online version is the one to rely on.

How to use this schedule

Find your jurisdiction

Rankings are grouped by market, then jurisdiction A–Z. City-level rankings (Brisbane, Chicago, Manchester) sit alongside state, provincial and national ones, so check both where a market is ranked at more than one level.

Find your area of law

Within each jurisdiction, rankings are grouped by area. The list type shows what each ranking covers: lawyers, law firms, barristers (including senior and junior counsel), rising stars, or mediators and private judges.

Publication month

The month the next edition publishes on doylesguide.com. Every ranking in this schedule carries the 2027 edition unless marked otherwise.

Submissions due

Usually two months before publication. Material received after this month may not be considered in that year's research.

Search and filter

Online, use the search box or the region, jurisdiction, area, list type and month filters. Switch to the month view to see everything publishing in one month. Filters are written into the page address, so a filtered view can be bookmarked or shared.

Links

Ranking names link to the current edition so you can see its format and prior results. In the PDF, the contents and the month index link to each jurisdiction's page.

Editions

The Australian family law programme runs on a later cycle: those rankings publish in November 2027 as the 2028 edition, with submissions due September 2027.

For firms and practitioners

Doyle's Guide is an independent, peer-review-based directory. Rankings are compiled from online peer surveys and interviews with practitioners, clients and industry bodies, and are ranked by the volume and quality of positive feedback. They cannot be purchased: no fee, advertising arrangement or commercial relationship influences whether a firm or individual is ranked, or where they sit.

Making a submission

Submissions are welcome but never required, and they do not of themselves determine a ranking. What they do is help our researchers understand your practice and identify the peers and clients to consult. A useful submission is short — two or three pages — and covers:

- the practice group and the jurisdiction and area it is being provided for
- the key practitioners in the group, their seniority and focus
- representative recent matters that can be referenced publicly (Family Law matters may be anonymised)
- client and peer referees who are willing to take a call
- a contact for research queries

Submit online at doylesguide.com/submissions by the submission month shown in this schedule. The forms, a step-by-step guide and answers to common questions are all there.

After publication

Ranked firms and individuals may use their Doyle's Guide rankings in their own marketing. Rankings logos, featured photo placements and linked lawyer profile pages on the rankings pages are available through doylesguide.com, and our editorial team can advise on the options for your market.

Keeping up to date

This schedule is updated as rankings are added to the programme. Bookmark the online version, and contact editorial@doylesguide.com with any question about a particular ranking, jurisdiction or deadline.
